

Spiritual Tune-up

I was feeling a bit stuck and wasn't quite sure where to go next with my life. I am a firm believer in the chakra energy system and felt it was time to un-brake those spinning wheels of light to allow my Self to move forward in this moment once again with ease and purpose. So when I happened to come across Cindy, I jumped at the idea to have my energy worked on to see what was holding me back. And to my pleasant surprise, near the time of the reading, my blockage suddenly dissolved, allowing me to make an easy decision of what I wanted and what I didn't want in my life. Cindy's precise assessment of my past emotional attachments still lingering within my system, and her ability and gift to remove such obtrusions, is truly a skill of Love. I wish to thank you, Cindy, with all my Heart.
